Other transportation-related initiatives

DelDOT is conducting an analysis of several transportation / land use scenarios in and around the Coastal Corridors Study Area to identify areas of need and risk to future mobility, economic development, safety, and other community priorities. The results of the analysis will be shared and discussed with stakeholders and the public to help further inform and prioritize transportation and land use strategies to meet community needs now and into the future. This system-level analysis is an important precursor to more detailed planning for SR 16, US 9, and SR 24 corridors.
